ALL ABOARD FOR RARE CUBS

Three endangered Sumatran tiger cubs have crossed the Channel by passenger ferry.
They were being transported from Chessington Zoo to their new home in Burger's Zoo, Holland.
The crossing over to France was smooth despite the cubs being called Hujan, Bayu and Deru, which mean storm, thunder and rain in Indonesian.
The three young tiger cubs were on their best behaviour even though they were not sedated when transported by their new keepers on the Dover-Calais passenger ferry.

DOVER is fit only for rowdy European schoolchildren, while more cultured types should head for Canterbury, according to one of the cathedral city's leading politicians.

Liberal Democrat Alex Perkins's comments are bound to infuriate Dover residents as he promotes the interests of high spenders.

He wants to marginalise children from France and Belgium who can, he says, behave badly.

The antics of European children in Canterbury has long been a source of local concern and has caused friction in the city centre.

Now Cllr Perkins said he wants to encourage "quality tourism and more discerning visitors" to Canterbury – with Dover a place to which lower-income visitors should head.

"It's a minority, but you can see French or Belgian schoolchildren running around colouring each others' hair green and spraying each other with silly string," he said.

"We were debating coach parks when I said what we need is more hotels.

"With such facilities we can ask ourselves – how many of these coach parties do we need?"

"A middle-aged couple staying in a hotel will spend an average of £150-£200 a weekend. This is against a schoolchild, who spends an average of £5 per visit.

"And the children can have a negative effect on the higher spenders who want to spend quality time here.

"It is largely a matter of supervision.

"For example I was outside the Lord's Mayor's place when a German student – who had been wading in the river on a hot day – came up to us

New border force to beat the criminals

■ BY MARIJKE COX

IMMIGRATION minister Liam Byrne visited the Port of Dover yesterday to mark the creation of the Single Border Force.

The new initiative, launched in November, sees the joining of HM Revenue and Customs, the Border and Immigration Agency and UKVisas in an attempt to strengthen UK borders.

Mr Byrne said: "The creation of the Single Border Force brings together Customs and Immigration to target organised crime.

"Criminals don't make the distinction between people and goods – they smuggle both because they stand to make a lot of money from the illegal trade.

"That's why we need one organisation – the UK Border Agency."

Immigration officers in France and Belgium check vehicles for signs of tampering and use sniffer dogs as well as technology to seek out stowaways to prevent people travelling to Kent illegally.

In Dover, Customs officers target lorries they suspect may be carrying illegal goods, such as drugs, tobacco or illegal immigrants.

Due to the union of the two agencies, immigration officers have access to custom's computer systems.

This allows them to seize vehicles used to transport stowaways in the past, but failed to pay fines.

The new UK Border Agency will have a major role in tackling terrorism and crime.

The £1.2 million scheme has a £650m contract with company Trusted Borders for a passenger screening system that screens all passengers before they travel to the UK.

Successful trials of the system have already led to more than 1,000 criminals being caught and 15,000 suspect people being checked by immigration, customs or police.

VISIT: Minister Liam Byrne at Dover

Paul Newman, senior detection manager at HM Revenue and Customs, said: "From an officer's point of view the joining up of the two agencies is extremely positive.

"HM Revenue and Customs deal with the smuggling of drugs as well as other contraband and the Border and Immigration Agency deal with illegal immigrants.

"The creation of the Single Border Force means different skills from both these organisations are combined."

In 2006, the Home Office launched the Borders, Immigration and Identity Act Plan.

This showed how the Government intends to use identity technology to screen foreign nationals who want to stay in the UK.

This includes fingerprint visas and passenger screening before travel in the UK as well as tougher checks at the UK border.

It also insisted on compulsory ID cards for foreign nationals the UK.

'Dover would be proud to welcome more tourists'

and we saw he had cut his foot. We couldn't find a teacher – nor could any of the other pupils who volunteered to help.

"Also we couldn't stop the bleeding and so we eventually called an ambulance. When a teacher did appear we discovered they had been in the pub all afternoon after just supervising the children for the morning."

Cllr Perkins said he had picked Dover as an alternative destination for the school parties as Dover Castle was already a major tourist attraction.

And last night Dover District Council leader Paul Watkins told Yourdover they would be made very welcome.

He said: "Dover is going through a regeneration phase and we would be proud to attract more tourists.

"As Cllr Perkins so rightly puts it, they already come to the castle.

"But then they go on to Canterbury and we do not see them in the town centre. This is something we are in discussion with English Heritage about.

"We regularly talk to them about how to attract castle visitors into the town centre.

"Dover has a thriving cruise terminal and we would like to ensure that major value-added spend [money] comes to Dover although we have no problem sharing it with Canterbury and the rest of the UK.

"We wish to be a multi-generational tourist destination."

Pfizer donation

A CHARITY that provides support for carers living in the district has received a donation from the Pfizer Community Fund.

Dover District Carers Support (DDCS) works with 600 carers who look after relatives or friends with physical and learning difficulties or mental health problems.

The funding of more than £7,500 will not only help meet costs incurred by employing more staff, but will also help support a further 50 carers.

Tricia Cole, DDCS manager, said: "Everybody involved in the Young Onset Dementia Project was delighted to hear of funding from Pfizer.

"There have been vast benefits to carers and those with dementia during the first year's project so it is wonderful to have the opportunity to build on this."

Young Onset Dementia is a pilot scheme which supported more than 50 carers of people under the age of 65 who suffer from the illness.

Castle stars in Hollywood blockbuster

■ BY NICK AMES

DOVER CASTLE is set to be promoted as one of the hottest worldwide tourist destinations of the year for film fans following the release of a Hollywood epic shot within its historic walls.

The Other Boleyn Girl tells the sizzling tale of ambitious sisters Anne and Mary Boleyn as they scheme their way into the bed of King Henry VIII.

Eric Bana plays the part of Henry with stars Natalie Portman and Scarlett Johansson in the roles of Anne and Mary.

Filmmakers Universal Pictures chose Dover Castle to portray the Tower of London, scene of Anne's execution as royal affections turn towards Mary.

The Great Chamber was used as the cell where Anne is held before her "walk of doom" and the castle courtyard is used for the execution scene.

"We are looking forward to the fact tourists will want to follow in the footsteps of some of Hollywood's biggest stars," said a spokeswoman for Kent County Council which is backing the movie and its promotion along with the Kent Tourism Alliance.

The scenes at Dover were shot over five days from 6am to 8pm after a three-week makeover which removed all trappings of the 21st century and sent the historic fortress back to medieval times.

A total of 150 crew and a massive 260 extras were used in the shooting the location shots by director Justin Chadwick who based his movie on the novel of the same name by Philippa Gregory.

UK model of the year 2006-07 Siobhan Hustler, from Folkestone, makes an appearance in the film in the role of Anne's lady in waiting.

She said: "It was a pleasure and privilege to work on this film, especially alongside Natalie Portman who was lovely."

"It was freezing cold on set and she would give all the people on set with her a chance to warm up with her hot water bottle."

"While she was out in the cold Scarlett Johansson was in her trailer, in the warm."

"When it came to Anne's death scene we were all told to cry and it wasn't difficult. It was so moving, she made this speech when she realised she was not going to get a royal pardon and it was brilliant."

The historical King Henry and his retinue would have frequently stayed at the imposing castle and a display of replica period artefacts is open to visitors.

Siobhan has been coming to Dover Castle ever since she was a young girl.

"I always loved the place and its stories – all the history it has, all the drama and tragedy. Now I have been part of bringing those tales to life."

Man who beat his ex-lover is banned from the town

■ BY IAN READ

WOMAN-BEATER Jason Olds has been banned from setting foot in Dover for the next two years – and if he doesn't heed the warning he will go to jail for five months.

Olds, 37, from Ashford, is also banned from talking to former partner Katherine Mennie for the same period.

He admitted assaulting Miss Mennie and resisting arrest during a domestic incident at her home in Dover.

Anna Kachingwe, prosecuting at Folkestone court, said the assault happened shortly after Olds had been released from prison after a previous attack on Miss Mennie.

She said: "Miss Mennie had put her children to bed and was talking to them softly."

"Olds said he didn't like whispering."

"He then grabbed her by the throat, but she managed to struggle away."

"Police were called and Olds resisted arrest when they tried to lead him out of the house."

"As a result of this incident Miss Mennie had bad red marks on her throat, back and chest."

The court heard Olds was on anti-depressant tablets and had drunk three litres of wine before the attack.

As well as the suspended prison sentence, Olds was given a two-year supervision order and ordered to attend a domestic abuse course.

He was ordered to pay Miss Mennie £100 compensation and £100 court costs.

Chairman of the Bench Robert Scrase said: "This means you cannot enter Dover for two years and cannot contact Miss Mennie by phone, mobile phone, text or letter."

"If she contacts you, you should tell police."

Why a new bus pass spells freedom from young people

Club receives £400 donation

A GYM club is getting a generous cash boost from the Kent Police Property Fund.

Dover Gymnastics Club, which is based on the Poulton Close industrial estate, is a registered charity that caters for more than 200 young people.

It relies on fundraising and course fees for its income and is run by volunteers.

PSCO Tony Phillips, who patrols St Radigund's, and temporary chief Superintendent Debbie Doe will present the club with a cheque for £400.

This money will go towards converting a room into two changing rooms for boys and girls.

Club coach Fern Marlow said: "We are a thriving club and operate in an area that is identified as being one of the most deprived parts of the country.

"Therefore we are very thankful for any help and support that people and organisations are able to give us."

Children hurt in car accident

POLICE are appealing for information after a car crash that left a child with a broken leg.

A silver Mitsubishi Galant was entering Folkestone Road from Hougham Court Lane when it was involved in a collision with a blue Citroën AX.

The incident happened at about 4.30pm on Friday last week.

The 36-year-old female driver and four children aged two to 13 who were in the Citroën were taken to the William Harvey Hospital in Ashford. They were treated for various fractures and one of the children suffered a broken leg.

Anyone who witnessed the incident can phone Kent police on 01622 798538.

SINGER'S A ROX STEADY TALENT

A Dover singer made it out of 1,000 hopefuls to reach the final of an online battle on the bands.

Rox Clayton-Smith, who lives in Dover with her partner and son, joined up to Slice the Pie, an online music competition, which put her in the running for £15,000.

Despite not winning, she made it down to the final eight out of hundreds of talented artists.

Aside from this, she has just released her debut album, What I Meant to Say.

Rox is a professional singer-songwriter who, as well as performing locally, is a Radio 1 jingle singer.

She said: "There are four of us that do it and it really is great fun. There's me and another girl and then two guys, one of whom sings the lead.

"Me and Chris Moyles pop out for sneaky fags during our breaks. He's really funny."

As well as jingle singing, Rox performs with her own band, The Love Junkies, at weddings and corporate functions. The group specialise in wedding entertainment and play a mix of soul, disco, motown and blues.

Planned road diversion falls foul of phone line

■ BY MARIJKE COX

AS if the A20 roadworks were not causing enough problems for the people of Dover, it has emerged that one of the planned diversions through the town is not viable.

It had initially been thought the freight clearance terminal at the Western Docks could be moved to the Eastern Docks during the A20 resurfacing work. This would have enabled lorries going into freight clearance will have to drive up through town roads at night.

However, a Highways Agency spokesman has said a telephone line at Customs means this cannot be done.

"Dover Harbour Board was asked to investigate the possibility of relocating the freight clearance terminal for a temporary period to assist traffic flows," he said.

"Customs responded to confirm that, although they could see the benefits, it was logistically impracticable due to a physical IT connection, which cannot be moved. Therefore, it is necessary for the agency to provide diversion routes to allow LGVs [large goods vehicles] leaving the Eastern Docks to access the freight clearance terminal at the Western Docks."

This has sparked concerns for residents, who fear that when work starts on the York Street roundabout and A20 to the Eastern Docks, lorries going into freight clearance will have to drive up through town roads at night.

They say that not only will this be potentially dangerous, but that roads will be damaged.

However, Richard Catt, director of PSL Freight, which provides Customs clearance at the Western Docks, says a revised route is unavoidable.

"Virtually everything in operations is reliant on electronic technology," he said.

"If we moved we would have to fax and email considerable amounts of data which would be difficult to set up just for a few weeks."

The Highways Agency work involves replacing the surface on both carriageways and the five roundabouts of the A20 from the Western Heights roundabout to the Eastern Docks.

Cllr Nigel Collor, of Dover District Council, said: "We know it's necessary and a good scheme, but our key concerns are diversions.

"If the Highways Agency had dealt directly with us we could have helped alleviate possible problems by using our local knowledge."

But Ing Fischer, Highways Agency route performance manager for Kent, said: "We've done an enormous amount of planning to ensure there's as little disruption as possible. These resurfacing works will provide a safer and quieter surface to road users for years to come."

The work starts on Monday, March 3, and is expected to last 12-15 weeks.

People are encouraged to visit www.highways.gov.uk/a20doverresurfacing for the latest progress on the work, or phone the Highways Agency on 08457 504030.

'We must learn from evil of the Holocaust'

THE horrors of the Holocaust still have resonance today, says Dover MP Gwyn Prosser.

The Labour politician was speaking after signing the Book of Commitment at the House of Commons on Sunday, which was Holocaust Memorial Day.

Mr Prosser said: "Holocaust Memorial Day provides a focus for each of us to learn from the lessons of the Holocaust.

"We must not only reflect on the horrors of the Holocaust and remember all the victims killed and persecuted by the Nazis, we must also challenge all types of prejudice and discrimination which continue in our society today."

Schools, communities and faith groups from across the UK united together to remember the victims of the Nazi genocide.

Council's Holocaust Memorial Day tribute.

The Book of Commitment at the House of Commons honours those who suffered at the hands of the Nazis and gives MPs the opportunity to pledge their support for this annual day of remembrance.

Holocaust Memorial Day aims to ensure not only that victims are remembered, but that such a crime against humanity never happens again.

Memorial services have been held in the UK on January 27 for the past eight years. The date marks the anniversary of the liberation in 1945 of Auschwitz-Birkenau, arguably the most notorious of the Germans' concentration and extermination camps.

It came about after a visit to the camp by MP Andrew Dismore. On June 30, 1999, he proposed a Bill to "introduce a day to learn and remember the Holocaust".

In 2005, the UN General Assembly adopted the day, passing the Holocaust Memorial Day resolution.

Karen Pollock, chief executive of the Holocaust Educational Trust, said: "We are delighted that Gwyn is supporting Holocaust Memorial Day.

"At a time when anti-Semitism, Holocaust denial, racism, prejudice and sadly even genocide still continue to pollute our world today. Holocaust Memorial Day and Holocaust education is more important than ever.

"It is through the participation and support of our schools, local groups and elected members that give this day the impact it has around the country.

"We applaud their commitment to ensuring the lessons of the past are learnt, acted upon and disseminated."

Drunken row a passport to trouble

A MAN had been in running battles with his equally sozzled girlfriend Annette Wylie when he decided to cut up her passport.

Gary Tennant, 34, of Erith Road, Dover, shredded the little red book because she had threatened not to attend a court hearing on January 9.

The previous day the pair had been rowing and had twice been thrown off the platform at Dover Priory station.

When Miss Wylie came home, she found her passport in bits strewn about the floor.

Anna Kachingwe, prosecuting, at Folkestone court, said Tennant feared she would flee to relatives abroad so he cut up the passport.

Tennant admitted criminal damage.

Leanne James, defending, said: "Miss Wylie said she wasn't going to court and that she intended to disappear.

"He was concerned about her behaviour so he cut up the passport. It has to be said both parties were equally drunk."

Chairman of the Bench Robert Scrase said: "This was a stupid thing to do and you will have to pay Miss Wylie compensation."

Tennant was given a 12-month conditional discharge and ordered to pay £75 for a new passport plus £60 costs.

Family tribute to 'loving' son killed in car crash

A YOUNG man from Alkham was killed when his car hit a tree.

Christopher Hyland, 18, described as "full of energy and life" by his family, was killed in the accident in Alkham Valley Road.

He had been travelling from the Folkestone direction towards River at about 8.30pm on Wednesday last week when his car hit a fence and tree close to Kearsney Abbey.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by paramedics.

Christopher had lived in Alkham his whole life and was described as a "home-boy at heart" by his parents.

He attended Temple Ewell primary school and St Edmunds Catholic school in Dover before pursuing a carpentry career at college.

Following this passion, he had just become an apprentice to a carpenter and cabinet-maker.

In a statement, his family said: "Christopher was a happy, loving, hard-working boy and young man. Through all avenues of his life, whether at school, work or walking through the countryside, he made lots of friends of all ages, quietly and gently leaving an impression on whoever he met."

"People will remember him for his humour and cheeky smile, which always had a way of making everyone around him happy."

Police are appealing for witnesses to the incident or the events leading up to it to come forward. Anyone with information is asked to phone the Serious Collision Investigation Unit on 01622 798538.

The teenager's family said: "Christopher had only been with us for a few years, but he has touched the hearts of all."

QUESTION & ANSWER

CHRIS PASCALL

Q Can you tell us a bit about what you do at Dover Castle?

A As a visitor operations manager at Dover Castle my role is varied and diverse. I manage a team of people whose aim is to deliver the very best in customer service that we can.

I am responsible for ensuring they have all the training and support they need to achieve this. Also I am responsible for ensuring the historic buildings are checked and maintained to make sure the buildings stay in a good state of repair.

Q What does the organisation aim to do at the castle?

A As an organisation we are responsible for protecting our heritage for future generations, so anything I can do as a manager to promote that falls into my job remit.

This includes giving talks to groups outside of EH, to taking visitors through the wartime tunnel complex on a guided tour, to promoting ghost tours or encouraging schools to come and visit us on a free educational visit.

Q What is your favourite thing about working at Dover Castle?

A I'm not sure if I can pick out one favourite thing about working here. As you can see from above the work is full and exciting.

No two days are ever the same. For example, we were struck by lightning this year. It caused a massive power cut and it meant we had no tills, telephones or lights. We had to evacuate the whole top end of the site.

We've also hosted major events this year which have added to the variety and excitement of working in such a fabulous environment.

Maybe the one thing that I would say that binds it all together, is the feeling of continuity.

No matter how difficult the day is, how busy we are or what complications there have been, when I look at or touch the walls of the great Keep I imagine all those generations who have gone before me and how through it all the grace and power of its walls still stand unbowed.

It's that feeling of linking with the past. We have all asked different things of this fortress throughout time and still it stands for everyone to see and enjoy. That's my favourite thing I think.

Q What events have you got planned throughout the year?

A The castle is open to visitors every day as usual, and we continue to run our very popular evening ghost tours on selected dates until February 16, so we will be pretty occupied. We are also getting ready for the new season – our first event is the Children's Festival on April 11.

We generally have a spurt of visitors on the days between Boxing Day and New Years Eve.

I have visions of all these mums shouting "get these kids out from under my feet" because they are mostly one adult with lots of children. Helps to burn off some of the excess Christmas pud though.

Q Dover Castle is reportedly haunted. Have you seen any ghosts during any of the ghost tours?

A No, I haven't seen any ghosts, but there have been strange things that have happened during some tours.

One involved the whole group and was heard and seen by everyone. We were all on the second floor of the Keep and I asked for the lights to be switched off to recreate the conditions present when a seance had been held at the castle – a story I was about to tell the group.

While the lights were off we all heard a door bang on the floor below us even though there was nobody in the building and no access to the lower floor, and then when I asked for the lights to come back on, the lights in the south spiral were delayed.

This is not possible as the lights are all on one switch so when one comes on they all come on. Visitors often tell us about an experience that happened to them and we always encourage the visitor to take photos and then pass on anything interesting.

I've never been brave enough to convince myself that there isn't anything in case, when I am locking up at night, the spirits decide to prove otherwise.

There are a lot of things we do not understand and the question of the existence of an entity could be one of them. I know I have never felt afraid in the Keep. Even when it has been dark and I have been alone. Perhaps they like us being there – company on a dark winter's evening.

Brewery logs on to wi-fi technology

BY NICK AMES

A STRING of hotels across the county have become the latest to benefit from the wi-fi explosion.

Brewer Shepherd Neame has teamed up with BT Openzone to offer its customers the chance to log-on to the internet without needing to plug their machines into a phone socket.

And it is rolling out the wireless technology – which is automatically detected by built-in modems on laptops – to all 13 of its hotels in the county.

They include sites in Faversham, Canterbury, Ashford, Chatham, Deal, Broadstairs, Maidstone and Whitstable.

Technology

While the technology is not new – wi-fi is now widely deployed by business and residential users as an easy way for multiple computers to get online – the brewer hopes the technology will lure more people to stay at its hotels and then access details on local attractions and services. In addition it allows staff to log-on to help them in their daily duties.

Nigel Bunting, Shepherd Neame's retail director, said: "Having a comprehensive wi-fi network installed across Shepherd Neame hotels was an essential step forward for us.

"The service has been an instant hit, with staff and hotel guests alike. The wi-fi technology has streamlined the running of the hotel, from reception through to the back office operations."

Wi-fi is a limited range technology ideal for use in locations such as homes or businesses.

For hotel guests, it means for a small fee they can log-on to BT Openzone and within seconds be surfing the web – and checking out sites such as our very own free broadband TV site, www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Chris Bruce, BT Openzone's general manager, added: "While we have many partnerships with big hotel brands, we are pleased to be working here in Kent with this niche chain.

"We know it is important for them to be able to provide wi-fi access to guests in today's connected market place."

Ring this number and help to foster

FOSTER care agency Family Matters are on the lookout across Kent to find people who want to look after and raise children.

The Folkestone-based agency – featured in this paper last week – is after suitable people from all walks of life to care for children after they lose their parents.

Unfortunately the number we printed last week was incorrect. The correct number to get in touch with the agency is 01303 210029.

Yourkenttv winners

THREE top videos shown on Yourkenttv have won cash prizes for their creators.

Talented Natalie Langley used the Prodigy song Under My Wheels as the soundtrack to a wild mix of stunning visuals and costumes to make Concrete Jungle.

Together with her creative partner Katie Fotis, she uses colour, graphics, effects and visuals to amazing effect.

Natalie won the KOS Media prize of £500 which was up for grabs when our broadband TV station was launched in September.

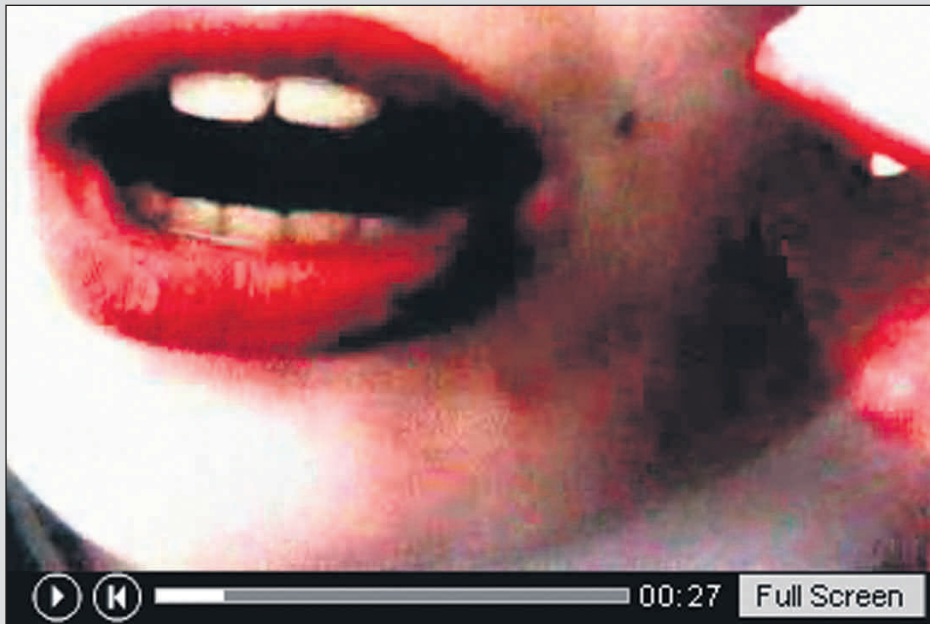

October's upload winner of £100 was Robert McMillan for his EmCee Flapjack

"music video" – the Biscuit Wrap – which has a suitable urban and gritty feel to complement street level sounds... apparently.

EmCee has continued to film and upload a series of music clips and become something of a cult figure on Yourkenttv.

November's £100 winner was Alexander Roscoe for his Sk8 Medway shoot. It saw the skateboarder performing tricks and stunts on a variety of objects from specially-created ramps and pipes, to a selection of street furniture and steps.

Congratulations to all three of our winners. Take a look at www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Young reporters make headlines at KOS Media

BY CHRIS BRITCHER

THE next generation of journalists proved they had what it takes when they came to the offices of this newspaper to see a newsroom in action.

Eleven pupils from St Nicholas School in New Romney – all members of the school's journalist club – came to KOS Media's headquarters to learn about how our papers are compiled and pick up tips on their future careers.

The youngsters, all from year six, got a guided tour of the newsroom, watched how a page is made-up and met some of our sales team.

They also gained a valuable insight into the life of a journalist from senior reporter Gareth Arnold who talked them through his busy week and explained how in this day and age he needs to be able to not just write stories but shoot video too.

And proving they had what it takes to make it in the media, they didn't hesitate to ask the all important questions; such as how much do reporters earn and what scares them?

Happy student Roxanne said: "I learnt that producing a newspaper is all about teamwork, and that everyone works to deadlines. I really enjoyed myself."

Classmate Skye added: "I had a great time and learned that if you work hard you can become an editor at a young age."

And fellow club member Georgia said: "There were lots of people in the office, I only expected there to be a few because you are not a national paper."

They learned about the launch of our award-winning sister paper Kent on Sunday and how our new midweek titles – launched in September – link in to an online offering and our free broadband TV site – www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

The club were accompanied by study support supervisors Carol Harvey and Irene Hills.

Mrs Hills said: "We all had a fantastic afternoon. We were extremely impressed by the friendly office staff and the willingness from all the staff to work with the children."

"We look forward to visiting again next year."

The club produce a regular newsletter on events at the school and the town, with all the stories written by the children.

They've even had a brush with the stars, interviewing screen legend Sir Donald Sinden, who lives near Tenterden.

They also make regular trips to help their studies.

An upcoming jaunt will see them travel to London to visit the Houses of Parliament, while previous excursions have seen them given guided tours around the studios of the local BBC TV and radio stations.

You can see the ambitious youngsters being shown round the office online – simply click on to our online website www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Dover...

If Coldplay Chris can't stand the media heat, just get out

IN last week's Yourshepway newspaper and on the websites run by KOS Media, a story about a photographer who used to work for the group appeared in an extremely high-profile form.

The snapper was also all over the internet on sites such as Youtube fighting in the street with Coldplay singer Chris Martin after he had tried to get a picture of the musician's wife Gwyneth Paltrow leaving hospital in New York, possibly after suffering a miscarriage.

Reading comments attached to the video clip, it is quite clear there is no sympathy out there for the Shepway man – indeed some of the language used is quite beyond the pale.

While of course everyone will be feeling sorry for the talented and attractive Ms Paltrow, should the reports of her condition be true, I feel there is another issue here.

Celebrities are always the first to court publicity on their way up to the heights reached by such stars as the two involved here. They are always on hand to promote their work via magazine and newspaper articles, TV chat show appearances and carefully staged and manufactured 'chance encounters' with members of the public.

In fact I have first-hand knowledge of this. I recently took part in a prime-time US chat show for a specific reason and among the other people on camera was a certain female Hollywood star whose demands included no references on air to any subject matter other than the production she was trying to push.

So stars certainly want to get into the public eye when they need to push a project, and even when they are not actually doing anything they are keen to remind the public they are still around – if only to ensure media coverage will ensure they get the next big part or their next CD sells well.

But how far can random intrusion into the lives of famous people going about everyday business be justified?

Certainly for a woman, there can be few things more personal than losing a child – if that is indeed what happened. And any man would be furious at what he may see as a further violation of the woman he loves, so a degree of anger is to be expected.

But what is out of order in my view is that people who live or die, career-wise, by the public's perception of them are so one-sided in their attitudes.

They want people to be interested in them – well, fine.

But they cannot have it both ways.

Maybe the current obsession with celebrity has gotten a little out of hand – it seems that fans of an actor, actress or musician want to know everything about them.

And the celebrities themselves should realise the price they pay for a lifestyle beyond the dreams of the overwhelming majority of the population is an amount of intrusion.

After all – if they can't stand the heat, they should get out of the studio.

DOVER - DUNKERQUE FERRIES

Name and design a mascot and WIN £2,000 for your school

EXCLUSIVE Dover-Dunkerque passenger ferry operator Norfolkline, in association with KOS Media, is inviting all Kent primary schools to enter a competition to name a new on-board mascot for their new fleet of three purpose-built ships.

In 2008, Norfolkline plan to introduce a new programme of children's entertainment on board all of their ships on the Dover-Dunkerque route and at certain times of the year the newly-chosen mascot will be on the ships to entertain children and families during the two-hour crossing.

Norfolkline and KOS Media are inviting all primary schools throughout the county to enter.

Entries can be sent in either as a school group, school children independently, but sent in with a counter signature by the form teacher. Three suggestions of names are permitted per entry.

There are no other restrictions and 'Name The Mascot' suggestions do not necessarily have to have a nautical or French theme.

To accompany all entries, Norfolkline and KOS Media would also like to receive an illustration of the number one choice of name – or all three choices if preferred – along with a written description and the history/ thoughts that have gone into coming up with the idea for a mascot's name.

Travel prizes of return ferry crossings with Norfolkline for a car and up to five passengers on the Dover – Dunkerque route will also be awarded to the runner-up and third-placed entries.

More information about Norfolkline operations can be found at www.norfolkline.com.

TALK TIME

PC GARY WRIGHT

PC Gary Wright talks about life in the police force and serving the people of Dover

Can you tell me a bit about yourself and your time working for the police?

I'm 24 and have worked for the police since I was 19. I love travelling, playing and watching sport, spending time with my family and friends and adding to my ever-growing DVD collection. I have worked in three different roles since I started with the police. Firstly, I worked on a core response team for two and a half years. I think this is the most important and visible role a police officer can have. Core response officers are the ones who are the most visible and are the ones who will turn up to anything immediately requiring attention, from car crashes to fights, to disturbances. As such, you experience a lot of things with your colleagues in this role. I then worked on South Kent's tutor unit for 10 months, assessing and tutoring new PCs and PCSOs. I have started on a new team now called the Neighbourhood Task Team. The crux of our job is to solve problems in any given area. For example, we may get a lot of calls regarding criminal damage in a certain part of Dover. Me and my partner will go in and work out some form of strategy to solve the problem, in conjunction with our colleagues.

What is your favourite thing about working for the police?

That would have to be the friends I have made.

Do you enjoy working in Dover?

Dover offers a variety of different opportunities when it comes to policing. Bearing in mind that we have one of the busiest shipping ports in the world, there is always something to do and things to 'sniff out'. Dover police station itself is a fantastic place to work – everyone knows everyone else and the atmosphere is always good. I don't live in the area itself but wouldn't change where I work for anything.

YOUR LETTERS

Airport will not create local jobs

SOME people locally are under the misapprehension that the Lydd airport expansion will create employment in the area.

All those employed will be from outside the area.

Pilots, hostesses, air-traffic controllers, ground crew – highly paid.

Restaurant and cleaning staff, baggage handlers – low paid (usually immigrant labour).

Look closely at the people who staff Gatwick and Heathrow!

This will be of no benefit to people in this area looking for work.

Also, there is no suitable infrastructure – shall we concrete over the whole of the Marsh to make this possible?

JG Rinder
Littlestone

Wind power will not deliver

Steve Dawe of Kent Green Party says in the January 16 issue that eight times more electricity could be generated than what we now use from offshore wind alone, according to the British Wind Energy Association.

They also tell you, on BWEA.com, that wind generator output is proportional to the cube of the wind speed (a law of physics) and peaks at 36mph, described on the Beaufort Scale as "Force 7, Near Gale".

Thus at half-speed, the output of a 1,000kw generator is a half of a half of a half of 1,000 – that is 125kw.

At one-third speed, you get one

LETTER OF THE WEEK

MAKEOVER: Could Tontine Street do with a lick of paint? One reader thinks so.

On the dark side of town

I HAVE been reading about the new University Centre in Folkestone and all the praise for it.

How about doing an article on the other side of Folkestone – the empty shops, the failed businesses, the bad paths and dog mess in Tontine Street?

The same can be said about businesses in Sandgate Road and Guildhall Street.

The one thing that brought trade into the town was the market – it brought crowds in from afar.

Now look at it – stuck in Guildhall Street with the traders fed up because there are no people.

It seems the council doesn't care about the small people, so maybe some interest from journalists will help.

LG Hatch
Folkestone

twenty-seventh, 37 kw. Below 9mph, zero.

30,000 MW at full power could meet half the UK maximum demand, but it never happens with wind. With the winds actually blowing from December 10-24, the total output of 30,000 MW wind machines spread across Britain would have seldom exceeded 2,000 MW, and on some days would be below 200

MW. In any winter, it would seldom reach above 15,000 MW. Traditional power kept the lights on and printing presses rolling.

Look at the hourly speeds shown on Ceefax 404, up them by 30 per cent, because wind machines are on tall towers, and do the sums yourself. I have. Wind cannot deliver reliably. Ask windfarm owners for actual hourly outputs for December.

When we close an elderly traditional power station, with what shall we replace it? Wind will mean blackouts; fossil fuel gives CO<sub>2</sub>; with nuclear we get neither. France, with 85 per cent nuclear for decades, has no problem with waste. Why should we?

My qualification? I was the engineering manager responsible for electricity supplies in the Medway-Gravesend-Swanley area for almost 20 years.

Bill Hyde

Nurses get paid for what they do

I WAS amazed and disgusted to read the letter from Marie Curie nurse Linda Damon. I am also a nurse and worked both Christmas and New Year, but I don't look for or want a pat on the back for it!

It is part of the job – we knew that when we took it.

We do it for the patients and for the very good pay and holidays we all get. And don't cry that nurses are poorly paid – you tell me anywhere else you can get the pay we get.

Yes, I imagine you should be grateful to Asda, but they would have been better donating those gifts to the patients who probably could have used/needed them more than the nurses.

Publicity seekers give a poor image

What a disgrace the so-called photographer Jae Donnelly is. How dare he try to photograph a couple who rely purely on publicity to maintain lifestyles we in Cheriton can only dream about?

Ruth Murdoch
Cheriton

No sympathy after paparazzi scuffle

Why oh why does the paparazzi think it is acceptable to harass people in the public eye just going about their everyday business? It is behaviour like that exhibited by former Yourshepway photographer Jae Donnelly which was a contributing factor in the death of Princess Diana.

I have no sympathy for him at all.

Mike Haynes
Folkestone

Snapper left on ground is a wimp

How much of a wimp is former Yourshepway snapper Jae Donnelly? How can anyone be knocked to the ground by the most quiche-eating rocker of all time – Chris Martin?

He'll never cut it on the mean streets of the city that never sleeps.

Paula Jones

Operation Stack an insult to drivers

It's about time something was done about the chaos caused by Operation Stack, so I'd like to thank this newspaper for highlighting the recent developments.

I feel it is an insult that us drivers are shunted onto the A20 when the French are angry about something (again!) or the weather turns grim.

Neil Poynter
Folkestone

Air ambulance issue is news

Last week's story about the air ambulance looking for help to keep running should be highlighted.

This sort of community-based reporting on proper issues is exactly what local newspapers should be about, so full marks.

Exercise tops pole position for me

What a great idea it is for women to keep in shape by pole dancing. It beats those tedious aerobics work-outs and step-ups any time.

Anything recommended by Kelly Brook, Teri Hatcher and Kate Hudson must be a good idea.

Also it's almost infinitely cheaper to buy a single pole than fork out for a year's membership of your local gymnasium.

Mike Merton

Auschwitz left a lasting impression

Last week's blogger raised an excellent point about Holocaust Memorial Day and what an important event it is.

A few years ago I went to Auschwitz, where an impressive museum is now housed in what used to be the camp.

The most striking thing I witnessed was a room completely filled with the shoes of those who died, followed by another full of human hair and, lastly, one filled with artificial limbs.

The gas chambers themselves are a few hundred yards away and left as they were following the attempt to destroy them and the evidence of the crimes committed there by the retreating Nazis.

This should never be forgotten.

STILL GOING STRONG: After countless line-up changes, Fairport Convention will be playing in Kent when they celebrate their 40th anniversary

Back on the road again

Folk legends mark milestone with tour

CELEBRATE the 40th anniversary of a music legend when Fairport Convention arrives in Kent.

The band has attracted a huge fan base during its four decades in the business, as well as developing the world famous music festival at Cropredy. The line-up features founder member Simon Nicol on guitar and vocals, bassist Dave Pegg, Chris Leslie on fiddle, mandolin and vocals, violinist Ric Sanders and drummer Gerry Conway.

Over the years there have been many line-up changes, break-ups, reunions and even tragedy, as well as some unforgettable music.

The band began as a four-piece in 1967, which rehearsed at the family home of guitarist Simon Nicol. The house in North London was called Fairport, which inspired the name.

The first line-up lasted for just one gig in a church hall. When a young drummer, Martin Lamble, saw them perform, he decided he could do a much better job and took over the role from Shaun Frater.

Recruiting a female singer, Judy Dyble, helped the band stand out and, after playing at a number of underground venues, they were soon signed up to Island Records. With the addition of an extra male vocalist, the self-titled debut album was released by the end of 1967.

Things were going well, with the

FAIRPORT CONVENTION

Saturday, February 2

Assembly Hall Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

band on the brink of inventing the new genre of folkrock. A French language version of Bob Dylan's If You Gotta Go just missed out on a Top 20 chart slot, but it did lead to an appearance on Top of the Pops.

Then tragedy struck when the band's van crashed, killing Lamble and Jeannie Franklyn, the girlfriend of guitarist Richard Thompson. The devastated survivors almost gave up, but eventually they went back to the studio and recorded the classic album Liege And Lief in 1969.

During the 70s, there were a bewildering number of line-up changes and by the time the group stabilised, Fairport found itself without a record deal.

A farewell tour was staged and the final outdoor concert was held in the Oxfordshire village of Cropredy, where bass guitarist Dave Pegg lived. The following year, they performed a reunion concert at the same spot and the festival was born.

There were more line-up changes during the 80s and 90s and for a while there were two versions of Fairport running in parallel. But the 21st century has seen a stable and successful band, enjoying popular tours and some new albums released.

Fairport Convention was given the Lifetime Achievement gong at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards in 2002, while album Liege And Lief was voted the best folk album ever. It also won a Gold Disc in 2006 for its continuing sales.

The performance starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £18/£17. Call the box office on 01892 530613/532072 or see www.assemblyhalltheatre.co.uk.

IAN PARKER

Thursday, February 14
Astor Theatre Arts Centre, Deal

WITH his bitter sweet vocal style and harrowing guitar sound, Ian Parker knows how to connect with his audience.

Fast becoming Britain's best-loved blues/roots performer, Parker draws on an eclectic range of influences to produce his unique sound. Described as a relevant contemporary blues man, Parker made a big impression on audiences in Deal when he opened for Walter Trout two years ago.

Born in Birmingham in 1976, Parker was inspired to become a musician when he discovered The Beatles' Rubber Soul album in his parents' record collection. He bought his first guitar at the age of nine and has never looked back.

From forming a band with two school friends to recording an album with producer Matt Butler, who has worked with greats such as Sir Paul McCartney, Parker has become a literate and honest songwriter.

The concert starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 in advance or £15 on the door. Call the box office on 01304 381134 or see www.astortheatre.co.uk.

MUSIC FOR CHANGE

Thursday, February 7
Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury

THE 10th anniversary of a ground-breaking music organisation will be celebrated with a special concert next week.

Music for Change was set up in a tiny loft space in the centre of Canterbury by Tom Andrews, who had a vision of how to tackle prejudice. The organisation's mission is to promote awareness, understanding and respect for cultural diversity through music and the arts.

Now Music for Change delivers more than 2,000 workshops every year and works with up to 200 skilled and experienced artists. Since 1997, it has touched the lives of more than 670,000 children, young people and adults.

The celebratory concert features a great line-up of diverse and exotic music. Sounds from the most remote equatorial villages of Africa will be presented with an urban twist by Kasai Masai. U'Zambezi is a UK-based ensemble specialising in songs and dances from Southern Africa townships. Also on the bill is Téa Hodzic, a Bosnian whose voice has an emotive, haunting quality.

The concert starts at 7.45pm on Thursday, February 7, and tickets cost £12. Call 01227 769075 or see www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk. Find out more about Music for Change at www.musicforchange.org.

Try out Nelson's favourite venue

Historic building

pub into a highly reputed restaurant

■ Sotirios

COSTAS SOTIRIOU has been running the restaurant in Hythe which bears his name for 15 years, and during that time it has gained an enviable reputation among diners throughout the county and beyond.

Sotirios specialises in international cuisine with pasta, meat and fish dishes all featuring on the menu.

Among the most popular choice for customers is a Sunday carvery, which has a spectacular rib of beef carved at the table as one of its centrepieces.

Set in a building which used to house an historic pub called Nelson's Head – in truth it was once a favourite of the legendary British admiral himself – it is a particularly traditional restaurant with its own unique atmosphere.

The staff are all long-serving and comprise a dedicated team which prides itself on customer satisfaction.

Mr Sotiriou said: "We pride ourselves on maintaining excellent services and value for money.

"Our staff are all very long-standing people who have contributed to our success.

"We offer excellent food, service, prices and a varied menu."

But Sotirios is never afraid to be innovative.

As well as being able to boast one of the largest menus of any dining venue across the south east of England it has other attractions which are drawing in the customers.

The venue can seat up to 80 people who can enjoy a live vocalist on the evening of the second Wednesday of every month, while on the last Wednesday of each month a magician practises close up "sleight of hand" tricks to baffle and amuse diners in the evening.

A set menu priced at £20 for three courses runs from Tuesday to Friday.

Sotirios is closed on Mondays but open from noon to 2pm and 6pm to 9.45pm Tuesday to Saturday.

Sunday carvery is on offer from noon until 2.30pm and 7pm to 9pm.

Special deals are also in place for Tuesday to Saturday lunchtimes.

Swing into informality

THE SWINGATE INN is a four-star venue run independently with award-winning chefs serving high-quality food.

Established and recognised as south east Kent's premier functions' venue, it also has a civil weddings licence.

Susan Dover is the proprietor of the venue and confesses to a secret desire to cook for South African hero Nelson Mandela.

Located in the Swingate area of Dover – which Susan believes is “an up and coming town” – the restaurant specialises in locally-sourced fresh meats and fish platters.

Current favourites on the menu are braised oxtail in a rich red wine sauce, braised vegetables and dumplings, but the menu changes weekly in order to reflect the best produce of the season.

Susan said: “Dover has good potential for people who want great food and informal dining.

“We offer great quality fresh food at value for money prices with friendly attentive service in a warm ambience.

“Our chef, award winning Carl Johnson, is professional, very calm and very creative.

“We offer a charming, informal candle-lit restaurant.”

The Swingate Hotel can seat up to 200 people for special functions. It is open from 7am until 11pm every day except Sunday when opening is from 10.30am.

LOCAL PRODUCE

FROM Whitstable oysters to New Romney lamb, the Garden of England is home to much wonderful local fare.

Apples, strawberries and cherries are also among the best anywhere and so it is no real surprise many restaurants are turning to local produce more and more.

Chef Gordon Ramsay, pictured, is just one expert backing local produce, and when Jean-Christophe Novelli visited Bluewater's market recently he said he was amazed and impressed at the standard of Kentish produce.

The French masterchef said: “There was such a range of superb food and top quality wines. I was really impressed with the people who were selling their produce as well.”

As well as the undeniable fact that local produce is fresher and does not need to be refrigerated, there are numerous other benefits.

No air miles mean fewer carbon emissions, and the cost of transport is reduced. Buying local produce also means more jobs and money coming into, instead of leaving, an area's economy.

A new initiative, Fresh Skills for Chefs aims to help cafes, bars, businesses and other food providers take advantage of the demand.

Chefs will undergo training and development on such topics as A Taste of Game, Butchery Skills and Special Diets.

Thanet Business College and the environmental foods group Produced in Kent are backing the scheme, along with Tourism South East and the South East England Development Association.

Sue Gill of the tourism group said: “The South East has a reputation for great food including our gastro-pubs, restaurants and hotels and this scheme aims to help the hospitality sector step up another level.”

Depp's demon performance

BY BEN FALK

"I'll admit it – I have shaved a grown man before," laughs Johnny Depp, who lathers his customers before slitting their throats as the eponymous murderer in new musical Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber Of Fleet Street which hit the big screen on Friday.

"He is alive," says Johnny of his 'client'. "He's walking round to this day."

The movie – for which he has just scooped a Best Actor Golden Globe and last week an Oscar nomination for the same award – provided a new challenge for the 44-year-old, whose chameleon-like ability to slip into any character and make him original is legendary. But Sweeney Todd wasn't about mere acting.

"I had never sung a song," reveals Johnny, who used to play guitar in an 80s band called The Kids.

"I was the guy who would come in and sing the harmony, very quickly. It would be all of three seconds and then I was out."

However, he admits that music was always his first love. "I wanted to be a rock star," he says. "I didn't even think about acting. I was a musician for years before I did a movie."

So when long-time collaborator Tim Burton came along asking him to take on Sweeney – based on the famously-intricate Stephen Sondheim stage musical – Johnny decided to participate in his own mini-X Factor.

He called ex-bandmate chum Bruce Witkin and went into the studio to record one of the film's songs, on the proviso that Witkin told him truthfully if he had the vocal ability to pull off the entire movie.

Witkin remembers: "I said 'Do you want the good news or the bad news?' Johnny said,

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

yourkenttv.co.uk

'Well, give me the bad news'. And I said, 'The bad news is you're going to have to do this'."

Johnny signed up, playing the doomed anti-hero who turns to murder after his family is stolen from him and he is unjustly imprisoned for 15 years. He is joined by Helena Bonham Carter as his accomplice Mrs Lovett, the lady who comes up with the plan to dispose of the dead bodies by turning them into delicious pies. The rest of the cast includes Alan Rickman as baddie Judge Turpin and Timothy Spall as the evil Beadle Bamford.

"Sweeney's obviously a dark figure," explains Johnny. "But I think hyper-sensitive. He has experienced something very traumatic, a grave injustice and I always saw him as a victim. Anyone who is victimised and then becomes a murderer can't be all there."

Complete with gothic wardrobe and bouffant locks highlighted by a shocking streak of white, the actor ends up sounding pretty good.

CHAMELEON: Johnny Depp has landed an Oscar nomination as best actor for his role in Sweeney Todd Johnny says Sweeney and his Cockney brogue is not based on anyone in particular. The voice, he says, comes "just from spending time over in Britain".

The UK is now only a short hop from his base in France, where he lives with his two children and girlfriend Vanessa Paradis. "I don't hang out with anybody who is famous," he says of his laid-back Gallic existence. "I don't know who is rich or poor or successful and it feels good."

Indeed, he manages to pretty much stay out of the tabloids, relishing his family time.

"I just want to spend as much time with my kids as possible," he says. "Doing simple things like going out to the trampoline and swing set, or just looking in the garden to see how the tomatoes are doing – old man stuff."

BY GABRIELLE FAGAN

IMAGINE flying thousands of miles to escape the hassles of normal life and commune with nature in the raw – and ending up instead with noisy neighbours.

They roll back in the early hours, oblivious to those trying to sleep, carry on noisily partying and woe betide anyone calling time on their fun.

That's exactly what I got on safari in Kenya. For two nights outside my tent in the middle of the bush, starting with the regularity of clockwork at 3am I could hear obscene grunts and panting, and heavy bodies lurching about.

A nightmare? No, a dream come true and rather than pulling the duvet over my head and cursing I watched the outrageous antics from the safety of my tent window.

That was because the creatures aping the behaviour of the worst kind of 'chavs' abroad were hippos.

Fat, noisy beasts whose hygiene leaves a lot to be desired – their idea of a spa break is basking in thick mud on the side of the river bank – were frolicking only a few feet away.

Being so close to them was just one of the magical moments on an adventure in the heart of one of the most spectacular game reserves in the world, the Masai Mara in Kenya.

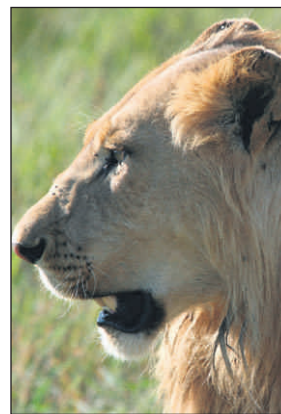

Every year, this National Park welcomes the Great Migration – two million wildebeest, zebra, and gazelle from Tanzania in search of lush grazing.

They join the resident community of other animals, including a star cast known as the Big Five because they were the most coveted by hunters – lion, African elephant, buffalo, black rhino and leopard – and a host of lesser players from hyena to monkeys.

For the first two nights we camped at Governor's Il Moran on the banks of the River Mara in a huge tent with reassuringly solid

LUXURY: Camp facilities are of the highest standard but you are part of the natural environment

Safari so good

'walls' of double-thick canvas. It came complete with electricity, king size bed, crisp cotton sheets, and ensuite bathroom with a Victorian rolltop bath, shower and flushing loo.

There are only 10 tents at this intimate, exclusive sanctuary, which has no fences and blends so smoothly into the environment that the wildlife feels as 'at home' wandering through as paying guests. Guards are on hand at all times to avoid any close encounters of the wrong sort.

While facilities and food at the camp are of the highest 21st century standard, the safari experience is like stepping out of time. Awoken for tea at 6am – sunrise and sunset are the best time to see the animals – we climbed sleepily into an open truck to 'stalk' the game.

Time and again our guide took us almost within touching distance of the game.

Nothing compares with the prized sight of a pride of lions. After hours of scanning the plains, there's a real thrill of achievement when you find them.

Later, our superb three-course dinners in the open air were enlivened by the musical accompaniment of the noises of the bush – croaking bullfrogs, crickets and the far-off cries of hyena.

It was soon time to drive up into the hillside to our next stop. Mara Bushtops is like an eagle's eerie with spectacular views across Mara Siana wildlife conservancy, bordering the Masai Mara.

Its accommodation is five-star, with tents on solid wooden floors facing out over the valley. A verandah, complete with a hot tub allows you to 'wallow' in much the same way as animals at the waterhole far below.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

IT'S better to trust your intuition than consult with friends. This will be a little scary at first, but it will also prove rewarding. Keep your thoughts to yourself between now and mid-February. A romance that fell by the wayside could come roaring back to life again in February.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aquarius 09067-531762

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)

YOUR religious, political, or philosophical beliefs are about to undergo a serious overhaul. You're starting to question the ideals with which you were raised. Talks with your boss could prove unproductive. The two of you will be working at cross purposes over the next three weeks.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Taurus 09067-531753

LEO (Jul 24-Aug 23)

DAILY life is about to undergo a transformation. Although this will force you to relinquish mainstream society, it will benefit you. It may be time to reconsider certain arrangements. You've been doing the lion's share of the work lately. Move to adjust the balance of a relationship.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Leo 09067-531756

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22)

YOU could be trusted with secret information over the next few days. It's important to stay silent about these matters. Don't make any decisions regarding moving for the next three weeks, unless you plan to renew an existing lease. Be assertive in a relationship. You won't be sorry.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Scorpio 09067-531759

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

YOUR personal objectives are very different from what they were a few months ago. Career goals are less important than close relationships. Getting closer to your nearest and dearest gives you a profound sense of contentment. Move forward with a stalled domestic project.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

GEMINI (May 22-Jun 23)

A NEW interest could take you down some interesting paths over the next few years. Finding sexual fulfilment will become another priority. A political or religious figure could prompt you to revise your ideas about a philosophical matter and inspire you to challenge the status quo.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Gemini 09067-531754

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sep 23)

AN overwhelming desire for romance and creativity could prompt you to make changes. There's no need to rush into anything; you should lay your plans with care and consider all the ins and outs of what you have in mind as they are bound to affect those nearest to you.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Virgo 09067-531757

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)

YOU'LL need to be more resourceful regarding money. Cash won't come in as easily as it has during the past few years. That's fine; you're not wasteful by nature. Still, this would be a good time to explore ways to adopt more environmentally-friendly ways.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Sagittarius 09067-531760

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)

AN increased need to succeed could prompt you to work harder and develop your leadership skills. Certain friendships will undergo changes between now and mid-February. Wasting time on people who don't have your best interests at heart is becoming a bit of a bore.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531752

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)

POWER struggles can emerge in close relationships. You're no longer willing to take a back seat. Similarly, people who feel they have been overshadowed by you will challenge your authority. Although it will be difficult to change these partnerships, this shift will prove rewarding.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Cancer 09067-531755

LIBRA (Sep 24-Oct 23)

IT'S time to break away from a restrictive emotional bond. You won't have to relinquish relationships altogether. You just need to claim a measure of independence. A lost love could return. Before you revert to old ways, sit and talk. You'll soon see very little has changed.

• To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Libra 09067-531758

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 20)

YOUR self image will undergo a radical change over the next few years. It may be necessary to alter your budget a bit. Cutting back on expensive luxuries will enable you to work less and play more. This is a good week to begin a brisk exercise regimen.

Amanda judges time is right to get out of Africa

■ BY BEN FALK

LAST time we heard about Amanda Holden, the actress had discovered a dead body in the woods while she was out on a run.

It was in November and the star was out for a jog with her personal trainer when they happened across an unfortunate soul who had hanged himself from a tree.

"Can I just say, when I found the dead body, the papers said I was 39 and I'm 36!" she says. "I was more traumatised by the fact they got my age wrong than the fact I found a stiff."

"I'm so terrible, because obviously someone did lose their loved one and I don't mean to be flippant."

"I did say I could take over from Amanda Burton in Silent Witness now, because I wasn't fazed by it, purely because I didn't think it was real."

"It was awful, but not as traumatising as it could have been."

At the moment she is in gruelling training for this year's London Marathon. "I won't be like Jade Goody," she reveals. "I am training three or four times a week. I'm knackered. I went out this morning. It's good though, because you can eat loads of cake."

It's a typical Amanda response – self-deprecating, witty, honest.

Whatever you may think of her past tabloid travails (though that stuff has all settled down now she is happily ensconced with beau Chris Hughes and baby Lexi), she's never less than cheerily candid, an increasing rarity amongst celebs.

That's why she has to actively stop herself when asked about her exit from Wild At Heart, the third series of which is now under way on ITV1.

WILD AT HEART: Amanda Holden is set to bid farewell to co-star Stephen Tompkinson in the hit ITV1 drama

"I can't discuss the ending," she giggles. "I keep getting into trouble for giving it away."

Amanda plays vet's wife Sarah in the show, who along with husband Danny (Stephen Tompkinson) has made a new life for herself on a nature reserve in Africa. A warm and cuddly weekend drama, the end of her contract meant an important decision, though not, it turns out, a difficult one.

"To be honest, it wasn't," she admits. "Lexi is nearly two now and it got to the point where I couldn't take her out of the country for six months of the year. It's not fair on my family, it's not really fair on her."

"She was a babe in arms last year, so I had her on set all the time. But she's inherited the noisy gene from her mother and she's not really quiet on set, so we both got told off a lot for speaking. She's walking around and there's a lot of poo and creepy-crawlies, so it's not really the best environment for her."

Nonetheless, shooting her final scenes ended up being one of Amanda's best experiences working on the show.

"It was brilliantly exciting, because it's all very action-packed. I felt like GI Jane, because it was physical and with lots of screaming," she explains.

"It was an emotional day, but it passed and the people that I loved there I'll stay in contact with, so I haven't lost anything really."

Is there a chance she will come back? "I did have lunch with the producer who is trying to make me come back!" she laughs. "So that's all I'll say. He can't afford me. Now I'm working for the Cowell, my expectations are high."

She confirms she is back alongside Simon Cowell as a judge for the next series of Britain's Got Talent, which is set to begin filming this month and transmit later in the year.

"I'm loving the light entertainment side of things at the moment," she says. "We start filming for three months, going round the country, auditioning."

That said, she is only signing up for one series at a time, partly so that she can try and combine it with acting and her home life (she reveals that 2008 "will be" the year she finally gets married) and partly so she can focus her energy on the Marathon, which she is doing on behalf of the Born Free Foundation, of which she is a patron.

Who's top of our hit parade?

Could you B our next video star?

THIS week the music page is brought to you by the letter B, specifically Graham B, who has uploaded his latest musical recommendation.

The track-suited taste maker explains how his auditory choices are limited by the fact he earns £5.50 an hour, but this doesn't stop him going absolutely mental to an early 90s remix of Sesame Street.

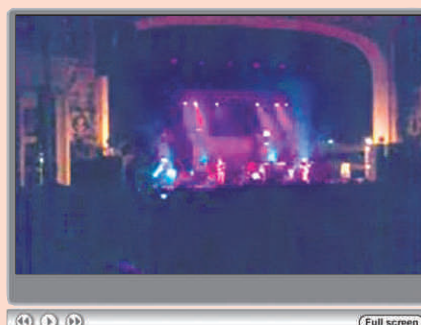

We hope to hear more of Graham's favourites over the coming weeks.

Also gracing Yourkenttv this week is My Last Mistake's tour diary. The Maidstone duo perform a stripped down version of a new song from what may be the bedroom of a Travel Lodge.

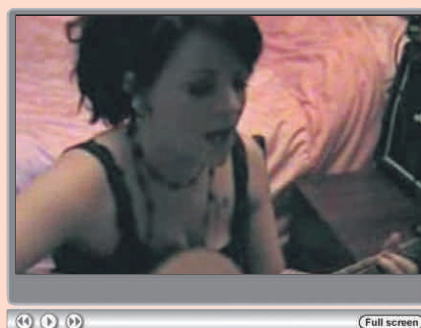

The band promise more to come as they work their way round the UK. All of which means you should bookmark www.yourkenttv.co.uk today for the best in local music.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO SEE YOUR BAND ON THIS PAGE OR HAVE A GIG YOU WOULD LIKE TO LIST, SIMPLY LOG ON @ yourkenttv.co.uk AND FOLLOW THE EASY-TO-USE INSTRUCTIONS

LIVE AND LOUD

INDIE CLASSIC: Dancing in the disco bumper to bumper... wait a minute, where's me jumper? We've all been there, now there's another chance to see Sultans of Ping FC perform their pop classic.

LIVE: Every week, Maidstone's My Last Mistake will be posting a new live performance of one of their songs. Check out their MySpace page www.myspace.com/mylastmistakeUK.

LOCAL TV ONLINE

REUNION: Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine, or Carter USM for short, performed at the Brixton Academy at a reunion gig late last year. Don't watch if you have epilepsy.

OUR OWN JIMMY SAVILLE: He has the tracksuits, the headband and the questionable taste in music... Could Graham B be the Jimmy Saville for the new millennium?

SHADY: Indie band Hazy Shade perform their song Full Circle on TV show Lads' Night Inn. We haven't seen the show either, but check out the band at www.myspace.com/hazyshadeband.

ANTHEM: Pop rock band D-Finitive on stage at Ashford's Festival in the Park last year performing Elmo Anthem. Another reference to Sesame Street? What is going on?

Click on to insure your home abroad

UK RESIDENTS are increasingly buying homes abroad, either as holiday venues or places to live in after retirement.

With affordable housing prices and agreeable climates, countries such as France and Spain have become popular second home destinations.

But as budget airlines expand their routes and make travel to places further afield easier and cheaper, some less well known places are seeing investment from these shores.

To allow for this www.protection-insurance.com, a specialist website has increased its holiday home insurance policy and now covers 44 countries. Recent additions include Bulgaria, Montenegro, Estonia, Finland, Norway and Thailand.

Aimed specifically at the owners of properties abroad, the company says it removes the difficulties of dealing with foreign insurers.

Jason Hulott, business development manager for the website, said: "This enhancement to our range of holiday home insurance products will prove invaluable to anyone owning an overseas holiday home.

"The English language policy ensures customers know exactly what is covered and means that premiums and any claims are paid in sterling."

Bonus drop puts locals on ladder

LOWER City bonuses mean fewer high earners will look to buy big in the country this year – so local people have a better chance to move up the property ladder into their dream homes.

This is the findings of a survey by Country Life magazine which surveyed the rural housing market in the £1 million to £3 million bracket.

Property editor Penny Churchill said: "In recent years demand for country houses has always exceeded supply.

"The prospect of fewer City bonus earners looking to buy second homes in the country is likely to be greeted with glee by local buyers, who see a downturn as their best chance in years of trading up to the kind of country home they have always dreamed of.

"This is especially true of the market for properties in the £1 million to £3 million price bracket in the south east where local families have been constantly outbid by City purchasers looking to invest their bonuses in a country or coastal retreat."

HEART OF THE HOME: Buyers place a higher value on the quality of the kitchen than they do on any other part of the house when making their purchasing decision

Why luxury kitchen is the recipe for success

■ BY NICK AMES

THE kitchen is the heart of the home according to new research which shows that it is the place where families come together to socialise.

A survey discovered that time, energy and cash is spent by the majority of homeowners to ensure a state-of-the-art setting for culinary experiments and meals.

Housebuilders Redrow are behind the study which revealed three of the top ten optional extras for the home were upgrades to the kitchen.

Integrated kitchen appliances such as cookers, freezers and work surfaces were among the most popular choices, as was the installation of downlighters.

Simon Bennett, the company's marketing director, said: "It's true to say that the kitchen is the nucleus of most family homes, a place where families come together not only to eat, but to talk and socialise.

"We design our kitchens with this in mind, incorporating breakfast or seating areas as much as possible and sometimes with family areas alongside, where children can play safely under their parents' supervision.

"On every development we offer a good choice of kitchen cabinets and workshop finishes, from the traditional to the modern, plus splash-back tiling and vinyl flooring.

"Many customers are taking this to the next level by choosing to upgrade to our top-of-the-range kitchens with fully-integrated appliances, granite workshops, ceramic floor tiles and downlighters, proving that the kitchen is definitely at the heart of the home."

Redrow, who build around 5,000 new homes each year across England, Scotland and Wales, has just launched a scheme offering ways for people to personalise their homes by offering upgrades and extra fittings.

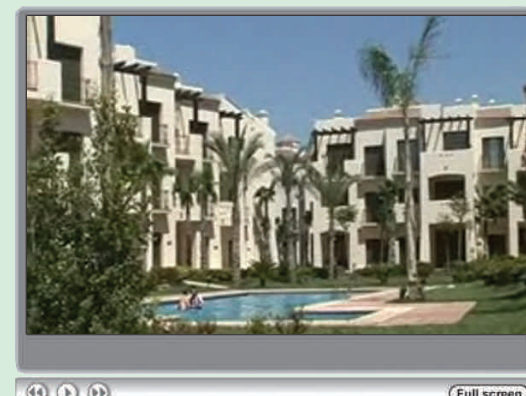

These range from taps to tiling, fireplaces in various designs, extra TV or phone points and alternative doors and handles.

The company also offers optional extras for those concerned about energy saving and preventing unnecessary emissions.

Included are kitchen waste segregation equipment, tap water flow restrictors, solar collectors, low energy lighting and advanced heating controls.

Other popular items include luxury bathroom fittings, carpets throughout the home, burglar alarms and additional fitted wardrobes.

MOTORS NEWS

Fiat's fortunes are looking up at last

FIAT is riding high in the aftermath of launching the highly-acclaimed Fiat 500.

An example of the retro-styled city car is still circling in a capsule aboard the London Eye – as pictured and part of last week's lavish launch event – while the parent company has announced a huge return to profitability.

For many years, Fiat suffered well-documented losses but the Italian group has announced a record trading profit of 3.2 billion euros for 2007 – 66 per cent up on 2006 and the car division almost doubled its profit over 2006, to 1.1 billion euros.

Sales of 2.234m vehicles was also the best in seven years.

Car dealers upbeat about used market

USED car dealers are positive about 2008, despite the credit crunch and faltering consumer confidence.

But research by motor valuation specialist CAP shows dealers see a need to better match stock to customer tastes.

Some plan to feature 'unusual' or more 'exotic' cars to tempt customers, while others will focus on lower mileage, smaller/more economical cars and higher specification cars.

Half will stock more diesels than a year ago – “Expect BMW diesel (pictured) values to rise even faster then,” says Kosmedia motoring editor Steve Loader.

Multi-purpose luxury

CITROEN is taking the compact MPV to new levels of luxury with the Lounge special edition of the award-winning C4 Picasso.

The £23,995 Lounge features full black leather upholstery for four large individual armchair style seats, chrome wheels, premium sound system, vast panoramic sunroof, black bodywork, sporty rear spoiler and a special chrome grille.

Power comes from a 2.0 HDi 138bhp turbodiesel, paired with a six-speed fully automatic gearbox and offers a maximum 118mph and almost 40mpg on the combined cycle.

VERSATILE: The Toyota Verso offers a stylish exterior and all the practicalities required of an MPV, plus a drive quality that puts many of its competitors in the shade

If you've no choice but to buy an MPV...

WOULD anyone buy an MPV unless they really had to?

I ask myself this every time I road test one and weigh the pros of more space, versatility and, sometimes, extra seats against the cons: ugliness, extra costs and terminal image failure that cannot be saved by fancy alloys and a joke spoiler.

A possible exception is Toyota's midi contender, the Verso. The car's looks are not to everyone's tastes but, within the constraints of a 'one-box' MPV design, I reckon the Toyota cuts a dash.

The view inside is equally impressive; Toyota has created an air of distinction and quality and more chance than most MPVs of deferring the inevitable “Are we there yet?” whine.

Our T180 flagship was, of course, equipped with the ultimate deterrent: a DVD system with screens on the backs of the front seats, allowing two warring factions to be kept amused.

Then, should WWII still ensue, that's when the rear privacy glass ensures the rest of the world is kept blissfully unaware of it.

ROAD TEST TOYOTA VERSO

BY STEVE LOADER

STAR QUALITY

Driving appeal	★★★★★
Image	★★★★★
Space	★★★★★
Value	★★★★★
Running costs	★★★★★
Reliability	★★★★★
Green rating	★★★★★

But what really impresses about all Versos is their driving appeal.

The T180 is particularly good, with dramatic low down pulling power from its 175bhp 2.2-litre turbodiesel making for impressive acceleration through a crisp and precise six-speed gearbox, yet it is neither raucous or coarse so an average of 40+mpg and relaxed motorway cruising is also part of the package.

Ride quality is a shrewd mixture of comfort plus taut handling with feedback through the wheel excellent for this class – whisper it, but I quite enjoyed a week with the car, mostly driving solo.

Versatility and space is top notch with both rearmost rows of seats folding flat to the floor for easy loading in 'van mode'. The middle ones also slide to vary boot space or legroom for those in the rearmost seats.

Like many rivals, using full seven-seat capacity means that boot space is modest, though no buyer of seven-seaters in this class should expect to use the cramped extra pair more than occasionally – for the school run perhaps.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

FAMILY/COMPANY CARS

IT'S getting tough in the family/company car arena. Prestige names like BMW, Audi and Mercedes have moved into territory once dominated by the Ford Mondeo and Vauxhall Vectra. Cars of this size have also faced competition from rising sales in the people carrier/MPV and 4x4/SUV sectors. The response from mainstream carmakers has been to go for more quality, as shown by the latest VW Passat and Toyota Avensis, and Ford has hit back with the latest Ford Mondeo by shifting it upmarket, though the previous car remains a tough competitor.

VW PASSAT

VW's previous Passat set a higher benchmark for quality and the new version raised the bar again. The German giant recognised the best way to counter upmarket rivals, including sister marque Audi, was by upping the standard of the overall package. So the new Passat is more spacious, drives better than the previous model and looks good. Factor in some of the best engines, petrol or diesel, on the market plus modest pricing and it looks irresistible.

FORD MONDEO

SUCCESS almost undid the Mondeo. Ford's clout in the market for company cars means that the car used to sell in huge numbers. But being commonplace with an everyday badge on the bonnet led to avoidance by some private buyers, even though it offers a terrific mix of handling and ride; saloon, hatchback and capacious estate body styles; plus a huge range of engines and specifications – the diesels are a big improvement on those in previous Mondeos.

TOYOTA AVENSIS

TOYOTA didn't have a great record in this sector before the latest Avensis. The previous model and its predecessor, the Carina II, were reliable but dull. The latest car is anything but mundane: styling is distinctive, build quality impeccable, refinement inspired by Toyota's luxury brand Lexus and it drives well. There is also a choice of saloon, hatchback and roomy-yet-stylish estate and two-litre and 2.2 turbo-diesels. Best of all, the Avensis comes with Toyota reliability built in.

Exports still strong despite downturn

MANUFACTURING demand in the South East has remained firm in the face of serious concerns of a global economic downturn, according to the latest CBI Industrial Trends survey.

■ BY TONY PATEY

Three months ago, bosses were expressing their fears as the credit crunch began to bite – but their pessimism faded as orders for British-made goods continued to hold up and exports grew at their fastest rate for 12 years.

Malcolm Hyde, CBI South East regional director, said: "Manufacturers share similar concerns to other sectors about the economy – a fear that rising costs might become combined with slowing demand."

"Thankfully, the expected wobble in demand didn't materialise in the last three months and orders for British-made goods have held up, particularly from abroad."

"What we are seeing is part of a necessary rebalancing of the economy, in the face of slowing consumer spending."

He said the dilemma now facing the Bank of England over interest rates was to weigh risks of a slowdown with the real pressure on prices in both factories and other areas of the economy.

"Price pressures from oil and food costs will bring higher inflation in the short term and may push the inflation rate further above target during 2008, making the Bank's decision even more difficult," he said.

Although export orders in particular are remaining healthy, rising food and energy costs mean bosses expect their domestic prices to go up at the fastest rate for 13 years, pushing up export prices faster than they have done over the last two years.

Demand has continued to grow, with 28 per cent of firms saying total new orders increased in the three months to January compared with 17 per cent reporting a decrease.

This exceeded expectations, but slower growth is expected in the next three months.

But demand this quarter was for the most part driven by export orders, no doubt helped by the weaker pound – though much of the currency's depreciation occurred after the survey was conducted.

Exports grew at the fastest rate since October 1995, but concerns that political and economic conditions abroad would limit orders over the coming three months have increased slightly since October and expectations are for flat growth in the next three months.

England calls for schoolboy

A TALENTED Folkestone schoolboy has successfully come through national trials and will line up for the England under-16 hockey team next month.

Ross Gilham-Jones of Harvey Grammar School is in the squad which will travel to Dublin for matches against the Republic of Ireland next month.

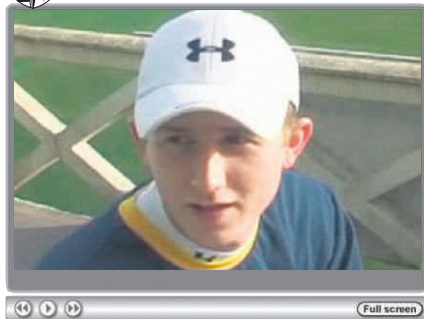

Good performances could cement his place in the squad for a four nations tournament in Holland, before this summer's prestigious Euronations tournament in The Hague.

The call-up is the latest step for the teenager, after representing Kent and South East England.

Goal machine hits net again

BUSTER Smissen continued his wonderful season by scoring his 26th league goal of the campaign to set Hythe Town on their way to a 2-0 victory against Croydon.

Croydon visited Reachfields with a plan to frustrate the hosts and they succeeded until five minutes before the break when the hit-man put Hythe in front.

The visitors defended solidly and Town struggled to find the crucial second goal until the closing minutes, when Pat Kingwell scored his second goal of the season. Town have the best home record in the Kent Premier Division, with nine wins and a draw from ten games.

With leaders VCD Athletic playing in the FA Vase, Paul Fisk's side closed the gap to eight points. With almost half a season remaining, his side have not given up hope of a late charge for the title ahead of Saturday's visit to Faversham Town.

ther side made any mistakes.

"I think to be fair if the game had finished 0-0 I would have been happy. I think we did deserve the victory come the final whistle.

"There were few scoring opportunities but that was down to great defending and it was an enthralling watch for the fans."

A bumper crowd of more than 300 flocked to Crabble to watch the meeting of the division's top two, creating a superb atmosphere.

Gravesend were the first to apply the pressure, making life difficult for the Dover forwards.

Both defences were on top, with Gravesend missing the only penalty of the first half.

The visitors missed another two kicks just after the break as Dover grew in confidence. The hosts missed penalties of their own and the game looked set for an improbable 0-0 draw before the game was won by Beaumont.

After several phases of play, inside-half Ben Murray, who had also had a fine game, provided Beaumont with a quick ball. Beaumont was heavily involved as the ball moved from right to left across the park and when a gap appeared, he burst through for an excellent try.

Tonks said: "It was great win, I believe we really do have a great chance at winning the league this year. However, we must not forget if you do not turn up at a game in this league you will get beat.

"I could not fault my players' efforts they were fantastic. My defence withstood a lot of pressure from Gravesend but they were equal to it. They gave 150 per cent, I hope they enjoy the victory."

The Sharks take a break from league action this weekend to resume their run in the Senior Vase. They face Essex club Rochford Hundred at Crabble for a place in the quarter-finals.

A MARTYN Beaumont try ten minutes from time proved the difference between London South East 3's top two as Dover slashed Gravesend's lead to a single point.

The visitors had been the team to beat all season and went into the game three points clear of the Sharks. An away victory would have opened up an almost unassailable five-point gap at the top so Dover realistically needed a win to keep their promotion hopes alive.

There was little to choose between the sides throughout and it looked to be heading for a stalemate until Beaumont finished a flowing move for the only points of the match.

Sharks coach Graham Tonks said: "It was a really good game. It was tight but that is what we expected from Gravesend, they are a very good side. The lads played very well. The intensity in the contact area was enormous. There was little room for error and to their credit neithe bottom of the Ryman Premier.

Scoring goals has been the main problem for Folkestone this term. With only 28 goals in their 26 league games, they are the joint lowest scorers in the division.

But Cugley believes the arrival of former Crystal Palace and Brentford striker Lloyd Blackman could change the club's fortunes in front of goal.

He said: "I have been after him for quite a long time because he is a local

AN own goal helped Folkestone Invicta continue their revival as they picked up an away point for the first time in more than three months.

Neil Cugley's side had lost six successive games since sharing a 0-0 draw with AFC Wimbledon on October 9, but the run came to an end in Middlesex.

Invicta led thanks to an own goal in the first half, but hopes of an away victory were dashed with an excellent free-kick which goalkeeper Charlie Mitten could not keep out.

The draw maintained Folkestone's useful run since the New Year, with only one defeat in their last four games.

The sequence of results has kept Neil Cugley's team clear of trouble at lad. I have been following his progress and I have tried to sign him at various times.

"He works very hard and he is a handful. With him and Leigh Bremner playing up front together, they will cause teams problems."

Blackman's arrival from Welling United will free up Jimmy Corbett to move back into his more favoured midfield slot, increasing competition for places throughout the side.

Damian Able left the club last week to join Ramsgate on a month's loan deal. The striker had become frustrated at a lack of first team opportunities but is in Cugley's long-term plans.

Collin's goals prove crucial for Whites

FOOTBALL

BY YOURDOVER REPORTER

Dover Athletic 3 Whyteleafe 0

DOVER ATHLETIC completed a good week off the pitch with a stylish performance on it as Whyteleafe were brushed aside at Crabble.

The Whites dominated the game and could have made the scoreline more emphatic, but had to settle for a 3-0 win thanks to goals from Jon Wallis, James Rogers and Frannie Collin.

Before kick-off the Crabble crowd gave new signing John Whitehouse a warm welcome. The goalkeeper starred in Chatham Town's 3-1 win against Dover earlier this month and signed on Friday.

He went straight into the starting line-up and enjoyed a quiet debut as Whyteleafe struggled to launch any concerted attacks on his goal.

Dover controlled the game from kick-off and took the lead on 30 minutes when Wallis smashed home a free-kick from 30-yards.

Rogers volleyed home from close range just before the break to give the hosts a comfortable lead.

Collin added a third on 70 minutes to give Andy Hessenthaler's side a routine victory.

It was the second 3-0 win at home in a week, after they convincingly dealt with play-off hopefuls Kingstonian last Monday. Collin and Rogers were again on the scoresheet, with Matt Fish also netting.

The latter's recent performances have impressed his manager.

Hessenthaler said: "Fish has been brilliant since he has come back. He is very fit and his runs in attack bring more players into the game. He does give us an option and it works really well when we play three defenders at the back."

Disappointing defeat for Lions

UPHILL STRUGGLE: The Lions are effectively out of the running for promotion this season

A DEFEAT to promotion rivals Lordswood all but ended Deal & Betteshanger's chances this season.

The away side led until the last 20 minutes, when Deal & Betteshanger were in charge of the game and were leading 17-15.

They put on a good display after trailing 14-7 at half-time, but in the last 20 minutes, the Lions conceded two sloppy identical tries.

Matthew Micheal scored the only try for Deal & Betteshanger, while tries from Luke Armstrong and Tom Best put the Lions in the lead.

However, a disastrous final quarter from the away side saw them slump to defeat.

The ball was kicked into the 22 and the Lions' defence failed to deal the hanging ball and Lordswood crashed over the try line.

It was a disappointing defeat for the Lions and a difficult second half to the season that has seen them drop right off the pace in London South East Three.

down to fifth in the league.

The Lions have an important couple of months with crunch games against teams at the lower end of London and South East Three.

The Lions will be looking to put some pressure on the top teams when they face ninth-placed Eastbourne on Saturday.

Deal & Betteshanger then face Kent rivals Aylesford Bulls on February 9, before playing against the league's two bottom sides, Tonbridge Juddian and Lewes.

If the Lions are to finish in the league's top three, they will need to take maximum points from the next three fixtures.

The club is advertising for a manager of the 2nd XV. If you are interested, contact David Storrie on 01304 361378 or 07891086981.

Town earn battling point against league high-fliers

DEAL TOWN held high-flying Beckenham Town to a goalless draw at the Charles Sports Ground on Saturday.

Both sides had chances to take maximum points from the game, but neither side could find a way through.

It was a good point for Deal against a side second in the Kent Premier League table and means they have only lost one of their last five matches.

Town have a good opportunity to extend the run this Saturday when they visit bottom side Tunbridge Wells.

Dover hope Boars lose their winning sparkle

THE Dover Invitation Darts Winter League reaches its climax on Friday as Boars Head Diamonds attempt to complete a perfect season.

The team have won all 17 matches so far, but standing in their way are Bull A, who have lost just once this season and are still in with a chance of taking the title.

Both teams set up the finale with big wins in their penultimate matches. Diamonds dismissed Archer 8-1 while Bull A sealed a 9-0 whitewash over bottom side Bull B.

Relegation woes left behind for Folkestone

A RESOUNDING home win eased Folkestone's relegation worries in London South East 4 as Hastings & Bexhill were beaten 36-3.

The victory was Folkestone's third from the last four games and moved them into sixth in the table, six points clear of the bottom.

They have the chance to climb into the top half of the table for the first time since the opening day of the season with a win against Crowborough this Saturday.

Gap at top of league closes to nine points

FOLKESTONE MEN'S hockey team maintained their strong season with a 1-0 win away at Burnt Ash.

The team are on a great run, with six wins and two draws in their last eight games in the 1st XI Kent/Sussex regional division.

The win kept Folkestone third in the table, but with league leaders Ashford dropping points, the gap at the top is down to nine points.

They host mid-table Horsham at Cheriton Road this Saturday as they look to extend their unbeaten run to nine games.
